

JACKSON COUNTY SENTINEL

VOL. 21, No. 45

GAINESBORO, TENN., THURSDAY, NOV. 6, 1919

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

PROCLAMATION FOR LAW AND ORDER WEEK NOVEMBER 9-15.

In compliance with a request by resolution of a largely attended convention of representative citizens from all parts of the state recently held in the Capitol at Nashville that a proclamation be issued setting apart a Law and Order Week in Tennessee, I hereby designate the week of November 9-15, as a time for the study of the principles underlying our government, for the instruction of the youth in these principles, for the organization of societies having for their object the maintenance of law and order and the punishment and suppression of crime.

Let me suggest that on Sunday, November 9th, every minister of the gospel in the state preach a sermon on law and order; that during the week named every public and private school set apart one day for a law and order program; that the Chambers of Commerce and other patriotic organizations hold public meetings in their respective cities and towns for the purpose of calling the attention to the dangers of the hour, and arousing a healthy sentiment in support of the state, county and municipal officers charged with the enforcement of the law.

We are passing through a crisis in our history as a nation.

Perhaps never before has America faced greater perils and dangers, and never has it been so all-important that good citizens stand loyally and wholeheartedly by constituted authority for the maintenance of the majesty of the law.

Lawlessness in all its forms must be suppressed and punished and the law must be vindicated and upheld. Whether lawless men act singly or in concert in their onslaughts upon the constitutional rights of the people, they must be dealt with by public officials and private citizens as violators of law. The Government must itself be just in its dealing with every citizen and must guarantee to all alike the equal protection of its laws; and upon the other hand every loyal citizen must give to his government his full and hearty support in all its efforts to discharge the proper functions of government.

The institutions builded by the fathers of the republic in such great labor and unspeakable sacrifice, and maintained throughout the nation's history on fields of battle, at home and abroad, with signal valor and heroism, must be preserved in their purity and integrity, howsoever great the cost may be.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Tennessee to be affixed at the Capitol at Nashville, on October 15, 1919.

A. H. Roberts,
Governor.

Ike B. Stevens,
Secretary of State.

JAMES WATSON SAYS, "I'LL NEVER FORGET WHEN FATHER'S HOGS GOT CHOLERA. "One morning he found 20 hogs dead and several sick. He called in the Vet. who after dissecting a rat caught on the premises, decided that the rodents had conveyed germs. Since then I am never without RAT-SNAP. It's the surest, quickest rat destroyer I know." Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by M. P. Bailey, & Son, Quarles & McCawley, Anderson & Haile, Gainesboro.

Pupils of Primary Grades Must Have Needed Supplies.

Beginning next week the Ready Roll will be published. It is astonishing how much time has to be taken up from work each day supplying some children with needed supplies. If each parent would see that the children are on time with a sharpened pencil, a tablet and the books required, so much time could be saved for needed school work. As it is hard for little pupils to keep pencils, they should be tied around the neck, or fastened in some way to their clothes.

Honor Roll week ending Oct. 31st.

Jack Haile Young, Jewel Dixon, Bessie Huff, Irena Smith, Jewel Smith, Willie Dudley, Robert Kinnard, Wilburn Smith, Lucy Henson, Mary Kinnard, Anna Lee Smith.

Winners in word game: 1st class—Irena Smith 6 points, Land Stafford 4 points, Vida Hammock 4 points.

2nd Class—Bessie Huff, 4 points, Harve Henson 4 points, Jewel Smith 2 points.

PROGRAM FOR PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION FOR NOVEMBER 18.

The Parent-Teacher Association will hold the next meeting Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 18, at the high school building.

The following program will be given:

"Co-operation of home and school from a local point of view."—Miss Maymie Morgan.

"Influence of good stories in molding character."—Miss Blanch Tinsley.

Music—Mrs. H. L. McDearman.

"Children's rights at home and at school."—Mrs. D. C. Morgan.

GLADDICO.

Farmers are anxious to gather their corn, as it is damaging very much.

Rev. Elijah Henry filled his regular appointment at Smith's Memorial church Oct. 26th.

Courtney Dixon, who is a T. P. 1. student, spent the weekend with home folks.

J. H. McDonald is attending Granville High School.

Oscar Mullinax made a business trip to Brooks' Bend.

The writer would be glad if some one would launch a campaign for better roads, better farming, better schools, better churches and the general advancement of our county. I am sure the editor would be glad to publish anything worth while on these subjects.

(Note—These are vital questions to every citizen of the county, and the Sentinel will be more than glad to publish articles as above mentioned.)

GAINESBORO R. 1.

Rain and high water has been plentiful.

W. J. Chaffin has returned from California.

Jordan Anderson spent Sunday night with Geo. Hix.

Burnes West is very sick at present from relapse of scarlet fever.

PRESIDENT WILSON URGES ALL CITIZENS TO ANSWER THIRD RED CROSS ROLL CALL.

The following invitation to every American man, woman and child from President Wilson to join the Red Cross during the Third Roll call from November 2 to 11 was written just before he was taken ill:

"As President of the United States and as President of the American Red Cross, I recommend and urge a generous response to the Third Red Cross Roll Call which opens on November the Second with the observance of Red Cross Sunday, and closes on November the eleventh, the first anniversary of the signing of the Armistice.

"Twenty million adults joined the Red Cross during the war, prompted by a patriotic desire to render service to their country and to the cause for which the United States was engaged in war. Our patriotism should stand the test of peace as well as the test of war, and it is an intelligently patriotic program which the Red Cross proposes, a continuance of service to our soldiers and sailors who look to it for many things, and a transfer of the problems of peace at home of the experience and methods which it acquired during the war.

It is on membership more than money contributions that stress of the present campaign is laid, for the Red Cross seeks to associate the people in welfare work throughout the land, especially in those communities where neither official nor unofficial provision has been made for adequate public health and social service.

It is in the spirit of democracy that the people should undertake their own welfare activities, and the National Red Cross wisely intends to exert upon community action a stimulating and coordinating influence and to place the energies of the organization behind all sound public health and welfare agencies.

"The American Red Cross does not purpose indefinite prolongation of its relief work abroad, a policy which would lay an unjust burden upon our own people and tend to undermine the self-reliance of the peoples relieved, but there is a necessary work of completion to be performed before the American Red Cross can honorably withdraw from Europe. The Congress of the United States has imposed upon the Red Cross a continuing responsibility abroad by authorizing the Secretary of War to transfer to the American Red Cross such surplus army medical supplies and supplementary and dietary food stuffs now in Europe as shall not be required by the Army, to be used by the Red Cross to relieve the distress which continues in certain countries of Europe as a result of the war.

"To finance these operations, to conclude work which was begun during the war, and to carry out some comparatively inexpensive constructive plans for assisting peoples in eastern Europe to develop their own welfare organizations, the American Red Cross requires, in addition to membership fees, a sum of money small in comparison with the gifts pouring into its treasury by our generous people during the war.

"Both the greater enduring domestic program and the lesser temporary foreign program of the Red Cross deserve enthusiastic support, and I venture to hope that its peace-time membership will exceed rather than fall below its impressive war-membership."

THE POISON APPLE AND WHAT OUR GRANDFATHERS THOUGHT OF IT.

Our grandparents thought that the tomato was a poisonous and called it "The Poison Apple." They also were under the impression that Tuberculosis was incurable and called it "Consumption" from the fact that it consumed those who contracted it.

Today we know that the tomato is an extremely succulent vegetable, but everybody does not know that Tuberculosis is not only preventable, and controllable, but that it is curable. And this latter truth is the message that the Tennessee Anti-Tuberculosis Association is bringing home to thousands of people in this state.

Already, as a direct result of this society, hospitals have been erected that contain 300 beds for the care of tubercular patients and institutions containing 200 more beds are under construction. Cities and towns are boosting for Fresh Air Camps and Open Air Schools and the way is being opened to wake Tennessee the healthiest state in the Union.

When one realizes that all this work has been accomplished through the sale of these little Red Cross Christmas Seals which we attach to our letters and packages each Christmas the fact is brought home that this work must continue. This year the campaign to sell the seals and urge subscriptions will be held from the 1st to the 10th of December.

Seeing the need of more health work, and continuance of work now being accomplished, the campaign has been endorsed by Governor A. H. Roberts, Colonel Alvin C. York, and a host of other prominent Tennesseans. This health work must go on, so enlist in the local Anti-Tuberculosis movement.

BRUMRIGHT, OKLA.

Drumright, Okla., Oct. 28. Everybody is getting along nicely.

J. V. Poston is having a good time. I saw him at a dance the other night standing in the kitchen with his head sticking around the door gazing at the girls.

Herman Poston has returned from a few weeks visit in Tennessee.

How is everybody at Burristown?

I suppose Dillard Wright and family will leave for Tennessee about the 15th.

Albert Masters and Mr. Morrow, went town Saturday.

I guess Fred Smith is making lots of money now, as he has bought a barber outfit.

Authur Bull, Lee Wheat, Albert Masters, John Poston and Clyde Wheat attended a street Carnival at Drumright one night last week.

I wonder how Tilman Webb and the girls of Algood are getting along.
